

IBEW LOCAL 325

OCTOBER 2019

Greetings Brothers & Sisters,

Let me start out by saying 325 is open for business and each and every one of us has the ability to make a difference. We had an excellent number of surveys filled out for the online (IRAP) industry regulated apprenticeship program. Thank you to all who took the time to make their voice heard. I attended the Third District progress meeting in Philadelphia. I had the pleasure to meet and speak with all of the IBEW top officers and believe me, they understand my passion for the Local.

We have many ways that we can move the Local forward and solidify our future for generations to come. I brought home information on forming a women's committee within our Local. This committee will have the opportunity to represent us at international conferences, should we be able to formulate a committee. I am 100% behind this and will do anything I can to make the future bright for the women who have chosen this trade to provide for their families.

Work is great for everyone who wants to work and we still have travelers in the area. Local 325 has always been known for very high quality of craftsmen & women. I have out of town contractors calling, that are interested in bidding within our jurisdiction. So now is the time to bring new women and men into membership and train them in our top notch training facility to be the best they can be. There is so much more to come and I invite each and every member to be a part of all the good things in store for us.

Fraternally Yours, Kelvin
